

DISGUISE FAILS TO SAVE CUNNINGHAM

Former Reno Official Who Escapes From Prison Captured on Train at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, March 15.—Disguised as a great cookin' cap covering his face and forehead and with his features other concealed by a week's growth of beard and a thick layer of coal dust, a man, identified as A. F. Cunningham, former assistant city clerk of Reno, Nev., escaped from the county jail on March 5, the night before he was to be taken to the penitentiary to serve nine years on train No. 23, westbound, by officers Murphy and Bagley and Railroad Officer O'Brien.

The police received a telegram from a constable of one of the towns along the line, stating that the suspect was on the train bound for the city, traveling in a cab of a Hindu. The prisoner, who was taken to the state prison the next day, had been serving a nine-year sentence for a burglary in the state of Nevada. Cunningham confessed this afternoon that he was the missing Reno ex-official.

RENO, Nev., March 15.—A. F. Cunningham escaped from the county jail this city shortly before midnight March 5. He slipped by his jailer, concealing himself behind his screen, and his absence was not noticed for several days. It is presumed that he left in an automobile. He was to have been taken to the state prison the next day to begin serving a nine-year sentence for a burglary in the state of Nevada. Cunningham confessed this afternoon that he was the missing Reno ex-official.

PEACHES EVIDENCE OF HIS STEPMOTHER

Testimony of Joseph J. Miller in the Proceeding Against Judge Whitford in Colorado.

DENVER, March 15.—Mrs. Margaret Miller, the principal witness for the prosecution in the proceeding against Judge Whitford, testified today before the legislative committee, concerning the hearing. Judge Miller was brought here from Denver, Neb., to give testimony.

He testified that he was with his stepmother, Mrs. Miller, on the day on which Mrs. Miller claimed to have given the money to Judge Whitford, and that in the evening they were joined by Miller's father, Mrs. Miller's daughter. All four, the stepmother, went to a show and later their home and retired. He was sure his stepmother did not leave the house on the next day.

Miller said he discussed the alleged matter with his stepmother and a man named Charles Anderson. The witness said that Mrs. Miller remarked that she had hired the "Fruit" man, one of the American officials to give the testimony before the investigation committee and that she was paid $100 in cash and guaranteed $10 a day.

Henry M. Robertson, former sheriff of the county, who Mrs. Miller had told the committee, introduced her to Judge Whitford, denied having introduced Mrs. Miller and Judge Whitford, and declared that he never was acquainted with the judge.

ARBITRATION TREATY IS THOUGHT PROBABLE

Two Obstacles in Way of Such a Convention Between England and America.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—When congressional assemblies in regular session next month, it is believed the president will be able to reduce his promise to submit a treaty with Great Britain providing for general and unlimited arbitration of all questions arising between Great Britain and America. Attention has been directed to the subject by the speech of Sir Edward Grey in parliament. It is believed that negotiations for such a treaty have been proceeding informally for a long time.

With a practical agreement on the principle of arbitration of all questions, even those involving national honor expressly excluded by existing conventions of The Hague, only a practical difficulty have been encountered by the negotiators. The first is the insistence of the American senate on its constitutional right to pass on each and every question to be submitted to arbitration, which, if recognized, would involve a separate treaty in every case.

The second obstacle is found in France, the declaration in favor of general arbitration so as to exclude questions involving national policy. Emphasis is laid on the statement that it is not contemplated to provide for yielding in the nature of an alliance, defensive, offensive or otherwise, between two principals to the projected treaty.

DEATH RESULTS FROM SLIGHT CUT ON HAND

WATERTOWN, N. Y., March 15.—Charles R. Remington, treasurer of the Watertown Paper Company and connected with other large paper making concerns in northern New York, died as the result of blood poisoning, caused by a slight cut on his hand, made about a week ago. The Remington family of mills is the fourth largest in the news print industry.

TWO RAILROADS FINED FOR GRANTING REBATES

BUFFALO, March 15.—The New York central railroad was fined $25,000 and the Pennsylvania railroad $20,000 by the Pennsylvania railroad commission for granting rebates to the Standard Oil company. The indictments were found March 15.

INSTRUCTED TO ARREST THE WALRUS HUNTERS

COPENHAGEN, March 15.—The government is sending warships to Greenland with instructions to arrest foreign hunters, chiefly Americans, who are reported to be killing thousands of walrus annually.

...Gigantic Removal Sale of... Pianos and Player Pianos

CONSOLIDATED MUSIC CO., oldest and largest intermountain music house has outgrown its present quarters and are preparing to move into a larger, more convenient and better appointed store. Through a most fortunate transaction just closed, the company gains possession of the entire property at Nos. 13, 15, 17 and 19 East First South street (three stories and basement). A large force of workmen are now busily engaged rebuilding and remodeling the premises and when completed, Salt Lake City will have one of the very finest music emporiums in the United States.

No expense is being spared. The contracts provide for nine separate piano parlors, twelve talking machine booths, the largest sheet music and small goods departments in the entire west, and a concert and recital hall with accommodations for four hundred people. The new quarters will contain nearly three times the present floor space occupied by the company.

To be in keeping with these plans for a larger and better music house, CONSOLIDATED MUSIC COMPANY has determined to place an entire new stock of musical merchandise into its new home. In order to do this the present stock must be sacrificed. Pianos, player pianos, organs, and small goods will be sold at prices never before attempted in this part of the country and most likely will never be offered again. The Main street store has been rented. The sale must be rushed through and there can be no extension of time.
